

June Robles Gives Officers Information That May Lead To Arrest of Her Abductors

CARTER GLASS RESIGNS FROM COMMITTEE

Senator Aroused By Fact He Was Not Recognized

Tucson, Ariz., May 15.—(AP)—Information that may lead to the quick arrest of the kidnapers of June Robles was given to authorities today by the 6-year-old girl herself, as she forgot the terror of 19 days chained to an underground box in the desert.

Suspicion was directed toward two unnamed persons by fragmentary remarks June made to officers who came out in the open in their determination to run down the abductors.

The law at last was free to close in after having been held in restraint most of the time while the girl was in the hands of kidnapers who demanded $15,000 ransom and finally lost their nerve and notified officers where their victim could be found—buried under a "cactus."

Announcing fragmentary remarks made by June as she played contentedly at home once more had given her a definite lead, Colby S. Farrah, Pima county undersheriff, said.

Farrah did not go into details, but it was understood June told him something of the appearance and actions of the kidnapers that helped to corroborate information the officers previously had been following.

Co-operation of the United States department of justice was assured in the hunt for the snatchers by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, who announced in Washington that a finger print expert had been assigned to this case here.

As the hunt got under way, it was reiterated no ransom money had been paid, that the $10,000 collected by the father, Fernando Robles, repaid in the home of June's grandfather, Bernado Robles, and that the family never had received instructions for a payoff after delivery of the original note the father demanding $15,000.

Among the known clues was the mysterious letter from Chicago to Governor B. B. McQuinn, which led to the finding of little June late yesterday in a tomb-like sheet-iron lined hole in the desert outside Tucson.

First to be scrutinized along the kidnapers' trail which apparently led to Chicago were the accoutrements of the grave-house in which the child spent nearly three tortuous weeks, and the anonymous letter.

Finger prints were being taken from the Chicago letter with the aid of the department of justice experts, to be used in comparison with those of suspects who may be picked up.

In Phoenix Herbert H. Hotchkiss, secretary, and others of the office staff of Gov. McQuinn, declined to having their finger prints taken and forwarded here, so they might be sorted out from any prints possibly left on the letter by the kidnapers.

Class called the appointment of the conferees "a gross and deliberate affront." Senator Wagner (D., N.Y.) who also was passed over, was unconcerned about the incident. Glass would not say whether he intended passing for acceptance of his resignation.

Robinson, to whom as majority leader the resignation was tendered, told newspapermen, however, that "there will be no changes in committee assignments." Indicating his confidence that the difficulty could be adjusted.

Both Byrns and Barkley, close friends of the Virginian, offered to withdraw and let him join the conference in their places, but Glass asserted he would not serve in that capacity now under any circumstances.

Fletcher contended that by precedent he was right in naming the conferees as he did, holding that it was customary to appoint conferees from members of the sub-committee to which writing or re-writing of the bill was entrusted.

"I was the 'sub-committee' that re-wrote the bill," was Glass's rejoinder to Fletcher's statement.

S. S. OLYMPIC HITS LIGHTSHIP 3 MEN KILLED

Four Sailors Rescued By Crew Of White Star Liner

Nantucket, Mass., May 15.—(AP)—Struck a terrific broadside blow by the S. S. Olympic of the White Star line in a fog-enshrouded crash that took the lives of seven of her crew, the Nantucket lightship today went to the Atlantic's bottom.

Three bodies of the lightship's crew were found by the Olympic's lifeboats but four others were missing. The four survivors were taken on board the liner which continued on to New York after a three hours' search for coasts.

Coast guards reported those dead as:

- W. W. Perry, Reading, engineer; A. Monteiro, New Bedford, cook; and J. F. Richmond, Boston, oiler.

The missing men were: I. Pina, cook; N. S. Rodriguez, J. Purtes and E. B. George, sailors, all of New Bedford.

The rescued men were: Captain George W. Braithwaite, of Cambridge, who suffered severe head injuries; C. E. Mosher, New Bedford, first officer; L. U. Robert, Boston, oiler, and J. S. Perry, Provincetown, radio operator.

Sight Lightship
The crash occurred at 10:20 a. m. (EST) after the Olympic had sighted the lightship too late to swerve clear of her. Captain W. B. Jinks, veteran skipper of the Olympic, reported that as soon as the form of the lightship appeared dimly in the fog for the order for "full speed astern" was given but it served only to lessen the force of the blow.

"Have sunk Nantucket lightship. Am standing by pick up crew," the captain wirelessed the coast guard immediately after the crash.

Then he sent a communication to the officers of the White Star line in New York.

"Please inform all concerned that have been in collision with Nantucket lightship and have sunk same. Standing by saving crew."

All night the crew of the lightship, on heavily outworn duty, 42 miles south southeast of the Island of Nantucket, had kept a deck watch, fearful of the fate that ultimately was to be theirs. During the night several steamers passed so near occupants of the lightship feared for their safety.

Fog warnings were sounded continuously and still blew their ominous warning even as the lightship plunged to the ocean depths.

The Olympic, bound from Cherbourg and Southampton for New York, flashed word of the crash to the coast guard. The cutters Argo and Amshet and the patrol boat Dix were dispatched to the scene. It was not until several hours after the Olympic had given up the search for the missing men that the coast guard vessels arrived on the scene to take up the search for their bodies.

Another lightship was sent from Boston to take the place of the sunken craft which warned trans-Atlantic vessels of the south shoals.

The lightship was modernly equipped, even to the extent of a radio fog beacon. She was of steel construction with two tall masts, and was commissioned in 1931 at a cost of $200,000.

WOULD RECOVER LARGE SUMS PAID TO RAIL OFFICIAL

Commerce Commission Has Renewed Pressure on Receivers

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission, it became known today, has renewed its pressure on receivers for the Wabash Railway Company to attempt the recovery of large sums paid by the railroad in 1930 to the late William H. Williams when he was president of the railroad.

The commission wrote N. B. Pitman and P. C. Nicodemus of St. Louis, receivers for the line in February asking them what had been toward recovering the money, to which their attention had been called in a commission letter on July 10, 1933. The receivers failed to answer the February letter and George B. McGinty, commission secretary, on May 2 wrote again pressing for a reply.

In the original letter the commission pointed out that Williams received $83,383 in salary and $100,000 for special services to the Wabash in 1930. It also pointed out that Williams had received $19,667 from the Ann Harbor railroad, a subsidiary which also is in receivership; $9,533 from the New Jersey, Indiana and Illinois Railroad; $14,563 from the Missouri Pacific; $10,000 from the Texas and Pacific and $6,875 from the Denver and Rio Grande Western. In 1931 he received $76,003 from the Wabash; $21,715 from the Ann Harbor and $10,675 from the New Jersey, Indiana and Illinois. His total compensation from railroads during the period from January 1, 1930, to October 14, 1931, when he died, was approximately $253,000.

CONGRESS URGED TO 'CLEAN UP' CHICAGO COURTS

McKeown Committee Says Receiverships "Pure Racket"

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—The McKeown subcommittee today demanded that Congress take immediate steps to clean up Chicago's federal courts. The subcommittee mentioned no names.

It released but one part of a four section report.

The remaining three, it ordered, were to be made public tomorrow. In these, Representative McKeown (D., Okla.), promised, would be discussed in great detail the bankruptcy and receivership administration of Federal Judges Charles E. Woodward, James J. Wilkerson, Walter C. Lindley and John P. Barnes.

Declaring that equity receiverships and bankruptcy matters "have degenerated into nothing more or less than a pure, simple racket that should be stopped by congressional legislation and action," the subcommittee reported "our investigation disclosed a condition in Chicago that amounts to almost criminal negligence in the failure on the part of the courts to properly conserve the property in litigation."

Charge Plundering
"In some instances there was an apparent willing assent to the plundering and sacking of the estate committed to the care and custody of the court, because in many of these cases apparently the whole arrangement was simply to use up the paymaster of receiver and attorney fees, with an absolutely utter disregard of the rights of the creditors."

"Your committee feels," it continued, "that any judge that trusts such a practice violates the trust which has been imposed on him by the government and the people, and that it is because of this fact that so many of our courts have been brought into disrepute."

While the subcommittee said it hesitated "at this time to recommend legislation to take care of all evils apparent in the Northern District of Illinois," it recommended:

1. That all referees in bankruptcy be appointed by the district judge or judges with the approval of the attorney general.

2. That the annual compensation of a referee should not exceed $7,500; and that the time allowed for filing claims should be reduced to 90 days.

3. The judges, in designating depositories for moneys of bankrupt estates, shall require bonds in an amount sufficient to protect depositors and shall require reports every 90 days.

4. That if the receiver and trustee of a bankruptcy estate are one and the same, the amount of fees as presently allowed by the bankruptcy act for both services should be reduced in some matter because at the present time it results in the payment of duplicate fees for practically the same services or may even result in a dissipation of the assets of the estate. It was also recommended that the question of the appointment of permanent receivers, to be paid a definite salary with the authority in the court to appoint special receivers in cases where special ability or experience is necessary, the basis of compensation for the same could be determined by the court at the time of the appointment, be seriously considered.

5. That upon discharge, the receiver of the trustee be required to file a complete itemized statement of all assets which have come into his hands, the disposition made thereof, and the complete itemized statement of his stewardship from the date of appointment.

"Practically all x x x of Chicago cases," it said, "have increased at the rate of 1,000 per annum. With this large amount of business it was surprising to learn that only two referees had been appointed and were acting. For purposes of comparison, New York City with less filings, has 8 referees; Brooklyn, with 1,000 less filings, has 4 referees; Philadelphia, with one half of the filings, has 5 referees, and Los Angeles, with 600 less filings, has 4 referees."

Ninety per cent of all the bankruptcy cases in the Northern District of Illinois, the report said, were handled by the two referees with the result that their total net earnings for closed cases in the fiscal year of 1932 was $65,798; and in the fiscal year of 1933, $71,597.

"Fifteen appraisers," the report continued, "appeared as appraisers in all bankruptcy matters. With one or two exceptions none of them had any previous experience and appraisals made for the guidance of the court appeared to be far below proper appraisals. In a large number of cases only one person made the appraisal, but the records show that all three appraisers collect the fees for making such appraisal. This system results in decreasing the net proceeds at the expense of creditors and is an unjustified drain on the estate of the bankrupt."

Los Angeles, May 15.—(AP)—William F. Gettle's kidnapers were sentenced to life terms in San Quentin prison tonight, a scant 24 hours after the oil millionaire was freed by a police raid from the house where he was held prisoner five days.

The trio were told bluntly they must plead guilty to a charge of kidnapping for extortion or stand trial under the California law that provides the death penalty where a kidnapping victim suffers bodily injury. Grudgingly, they chose the former.

Gettle, who suffered bruises when he was seized at his luxurious Arcadia country home last Wednesday midnight to be held for $60,000 ransom, heard Judge Charles Fricke sentence the prisoners—James F. Kirk, Larry Kirgan and Roy Williams.

The kidnapers probably will be started to prison tomorrow. They will be eligible for parole. The cases of Loretta Woody and Joan Burke, the women arrested with them, are yet to be decided.

The threat of "the shadow of the noose looming about their ears," as expressed by Bureau Pitts, district attorney, soon made the men decide their course. Kerrigan at first expressed a desire to see his attorney, but soon agreed, with Williams and Kirk, puff faced fellow who reputedly was the brains of the gang. The three men had confessed early today.

The three men were emphatic, however, in denying that Loretta Woody and Joan Burke, the women taken by the police in their roundup of the gang, had anything to do with the abduction.

The facilities of the United States department of justice in prosecuting not only the Gettle kidnapers but also the abductors of 6-year-old June Robles who was found in the desert near Tucson, Ariz., yesterday, was promised in Washington today by Attorney General Cummings.

A green parrot was the means of establishing negotiations with the kidnapers of Gettle, Ernest E. Noon, who acted as intermediary for the millionaire, said today in relating the story of events leading up to the rescue.

No ransom was paid, although the gang had demanded $60,000.

The sensational roundup came last night. Since the dramatic kidnaping last Wednesday night, when the millionaire was seized by two men in his country estate, thrown over a garden wall and carted away, the invitation and hunt by federal, state, county and city authorities went on unceasingly.

There was no trace with the kidnapers, although the authorities had time to time so announced in response to requests from the millionaire's family.

"I received two notes, supposedly from Gettle, shortly after he was kidnaped last Wednesday night," Noon said today. "I wasn't quite satisfied the signature was Gettle's."

"I prepared a series of questions for the kidnapers to ask Gettle. I knew if I got the correct replies I was dealing with the actual kidnapers, and not hi-jackers."

"One question, addressed directly to Gettle was: 'What did I play with on my one and only trip to this ranch?' Another question was: 'Who was there at that time?'"

"In due time I got the answers back from one of the kidnapers whom I knew as Percy. 'You played with a green parrot,' was the answer to the first question. 'Don Richards and George Lutz were there at the time,' was the answer to the second. The reply to the question about the parrot convinced me."

"I was requested to have the payoff money include $40,000 in $10 bills and $20,000 in $20 bills."

"This Percy fellow then told me to expect a call from Mr. (A. E.) Fox, a friend of Gettle, did call me a few minutes later. He said he had talked to a kidnaper who said he was trying to deliver a note to my office, but that it was 'too hot' there. Fox said he had been advised to drive to the community Church on Santa Monica boulevard in Beverly Hills and pick up a note. He went there and got the note. It said, in part: 'Dear Ernie—our friend, Percy, said you wanted to be sure I am alive. If I don't get out of here I won't be. Give me results, Gettle.'"

Noon said he got another call Sunday, instructing him to be ready to start with the money at 8 p. m. that night.

"I told him I was willing to, but I was sure I would be trailed and so he told me to get a substitute. At 7:20 p. m. Sunday he called again and said he would be delayed. Meanwhile he had the 'missary' in the auto with the doors off and the money ready. The 'missary' started off on the mission that ended in a shooting foray and failure to contact the kidnapers."

"In the last contact, made yesterday, there was a clock on the wire and the kidnaper realized there was someone tapping. He said he would call at Fox's."

ROOSEVELT IS PLANNING NEW CWA PROGRAM

Asks Congress For $1,322,000,000 Appropriation

By Elton C. Fay
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, May 15.—(AP)—A revised and renamed Civil Works program as one of the main props to the federal government's relief structure for the coming winter was discerned today in President Roosevelt's request to Congress for $1,322,000,000.

The president asked that Congress appropriate that sum to him "under fairly broad powers" to make flexible the distribution of the money for five general purposes, two of them definitely a part of his recovery plan.

The $940,965,000 item for Works relief was the biggest proposed expenditure in the presidential message. The balance was made up of $285,000,000 for the Civilian Conservation Corps; $75,000,000 for Federal Land banks; $10,000,000 for the Internal Revenue bureau's warfare on bootlegging and $11,995,000 for miscellaneous activities.

Tentative Plan
Administration members were reported to have a tentative plan for projecting and expanding the existing—and comparatively new—emergency works administration to supplant the Civil Works Administration which last winter was hurriedly jammed into operation to help jobless who needed relief before the more cumbersome machinery of the Public Works Administration swung into high speed.

In the operation of the Civil Works Administration the government found some undesirable features and these it hopes to trim out in the future Works Relief program.

When it put the Emergency Relief Administration into operation, under the direction of Harry L. Hopkins, the Relief Administrator, it decided to abandon as far as possible the scheme of having the Federal Government itself hire, put to work and pay the workers on the rolls. Outstanding among the reasons for this was that the federal government found it had to meet a multitude of labor requirements, such as workmen's compensation laws.

To avoid this the Emergency Relief Administration was put on the footing of a distribution agency, turning the money intended for hiring the jobless over to states, cities and counties—and leaving to them the details of Administration and some of the responsibility that went with it.

The Works Relief Program is expected to be carried on under this plan but with the federal government having a say as to how and for what it shall be expended. This is in keeping with Mr. Roosevelt's desire for a planned Works Relief Program instead of the comparatively haphazard program of the pinch-hitting Civil Works Administration.

That the money going to relief might exceed the $940,965,000 was provided for by Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion that any savings out of other items for emergency appropriations should be available for relief purposes.

The president and the house disagreed by $300,000,000 over the amount the federal government should put into the road program. Mr. Roosevelt's message proposed $100,000,000. The House already had passed a bill to set up a $400,000,000 road program.

FRANCE INTENDS TO BUILD UP ITS FIGHTING FORCES

Premier Says $891,000,000 Will Be Spent on Army, Navy, Air Forces

By Alexander H. Uhl
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Paris, May 15.—(AP)—Premier Gaston Doumergue served notice today that France intends to build up her army, navy and air forces.

The smiling veteran, finding himself in undisputed control of a tame Parliament, personally went into the Chamber of Deputies for support of his defense program, calling for expenditure of 13,500,000,000 francs (about $891,000,000).

The program is the largest proposed in six years and the total cost makes up a quarter of the budget to be presented to Parliament.

In addition to the budgetary appropriation, which includes provision for four new ships and for enough airplanes to protect all French territory, the Doumergue government also intends to ask for 2,980,000,000 francs for completion of the Rhine land fortresses and other similar defenses.

A specific plan to co-ordinate the fighting power of the army, navy and air fleet also is proposed, and oil stocking tanks are to be constructed along the coast and in all French colonies.

Indications that the government will find it easy to obtain appropriations to carry out these ambitious preparations for defense were seen in the conduct of members of Parliament during their 50-minute opening session today.

The Chamber of Deputies by a show of hands adjourned indefinitely in interpellations of the opposition, including one by socialist regarding the economy decrees which have been under fire from the left during the two months' recess.

New York-to-Rome Fliers Forced Down in Ireland by Break in Main Gasoline Line

By Michael Rooney
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Lahinch, Irish Free State, May 15.—(AP)—Barely escaping a plunge into the sea, Capt. George Pond and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli brought their Rome-bound monoplane to earth on a sandbank near here early tonight.

The main connection between the gasoline tank and motor of the craft broke just before the New York fliers came down on a small field about an acre in size.

Forced to cut off their motor, the fliers ran their big orange plane into a sandbank causing some damage to the undercarriage.

They landed at 8:30 P. M. local time (1:30 P. M. Central Standard Time) 32 hours and 6 minutes after taking off from Floyd Bennett airport at 5:42 A. M. Central Standard Time, Monday.

Although defeated in their attempt at a non-stop New York to Rome flight, they completed the season's first aerial crossing of the Atlantic. No plane has ever successfully made the non-stop journey to Rome from America.

Narrow Escape
Had the gasoline line of the Pond-Sabelli plane broken ten minutes earlier, the fliers would have been forced down before reaching the rock-bound coast of county Clare, one of the wildest areas in the British Isles.

"It was the worst experience I ever had," said Pond, after walking two miles to Lahinch, where the fliers rested at a hotel.

"We saw absolutely nothing from the time we left Newfoundland until reaching Ireland. We encountered much fog and a very strong, veering wind."

The fliers sought aid from Baidonnaird, Dublin, and an air corps unit there was sending a mechanic to help repair the plane.

They hoped repairs would be completed tomorrow in time for a take-off for Rome before nightfall.

Both fliers appeared quite fresh despite their sleepless vigil. A crowd quickly gathered at the hotel when it became known they had landed.

Lieut. Sabelli, in his version of the flight, said "after about 23 hours of blind flying, trouble developed with the engine. We lowered the plane and at first thought of attempting to alight in the sea."

"Fortunately the trouble cleared up and the machine gained altitude again."

"At another stage of the flight the gasoline line choked, but Pond, with great courage, left the cockpit, climbed out to the reserve tank and cleared the flow. Otherwise we would have been forced down in the Atlantic."

COMMUNICATION BILL IS PASSED BY U. S. SENATE

Five-Man Commission Will Regulate Systems

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—Working with old-time near-adjournment speed, the Senate today passed another of the major bills on its calendar—that creating a five-man bipartisan commission with power to regulate telephone, telegraph, radio and cable communications systems.

Less than five hours of debate and only a voice vote were required to approve the measure and send it to the House.

Conforming to the general recommendations of President Roosevelt, the bill transfers to the new commission all existing powers of the federal radio commission over radio and the Interstate Commerce Commission over the telephone and telegraph business, including authority to license and allocate broadcasting facilities and to control rates charged by the other services.

Grant New Power
It exceeds the president's recommendations in some respects as to the granting of new power, but Senator Gill (D-Wash.) whose name appears on the bill, though it would be acceptable.

It also contains provisions which are lacking in the Rayburn bill pending in the House Commerce Committee, and directs the regulatory body to investigate and report to Congress next session on the advisability of:

Giving the commission power to void or modify inter-service contracts between telephone, telegraph and cable holding companies and their subsidiaries.

Legislation to control leased wires. Allocation of a fixed percentage of broadcasting facilities for education, religion, fraternal, labor, charitable and other non-profit programs.

Permitting state regulation of systems of accounts and rates of depreciation charges.

The present radio commission would be abolished and members of the new commission would be appointed by the president for six year terms at an annual salary of $10,000.

Under amendments adopted on the floor, the commission would appoint a general counsel and chief engineer at $9,000 salary and a secretary at not more than $7,500.

Mrs. Warren Brockhouse, of Merced, Cal., shopped in Jacksonville yesterday.

INLAND DAILY PRESS HEARS GLENN FRANK

"Flexible Intelligence" Must Be Applied He Declares

Chicago, May 15.—(AP)—Application of "flexible intelligence" to the actual revolution now sweeping over American social, economic and industrial institutions is essential if they are to survive, Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, told the Inland Daily Press Association.

Speaking, he said, as a Republican, "one of the forgotten men," and a believer in private initiative, Frank said:

"The question in this distraught time is not what we should be thinking about some big revolution, such as Dr. Wirt and his fellow bogymakers saw wrapped up in some professor's academic gown, but what we purpose to do about the actual revolution through which the United States has been passing in the last decade and still is passing."

Our Guarded Rich

It is estimated that 600 persons of wealth in the United States are now being guarded from kidnappers. Some of these have received threats and are being watched closely; others are regarded as "prospects" and their movements are watched by federal agents much as possible kidnappers themselves would watch.

Several screen celebrities are now being guarded in Hollywood. Where there is imminent danger of kidnap-ing, the possible victims are constantly shadowed by detectives and federal agents. Scores of the men now in the federal service are engaged in this work.

The most carefully guarded person in the country is probably Doc Duke, the tobacco heiress. She has been guarded since she was a small child, which proves that the menace of kidnapping is by no means of recent date, tho it has greatly increased. There is almost no limit to the ransom which might be asked if Miss Duke should fall into the hands of kidnappers.

The solution of the Robies and Gottie cases and the collapse of ransom demands will do something to put a damper on the kidnapping racket.
But it is by no means ended. Criminals have found a rich field in the collection of ransom, and they will not relinquish their new El Dorado without a struggle.

It is a queer twist of fate that the one nation which guarantees so much of personal liberty and individual safety should have to institute a system of guards for people who happen to have enough money to make them targets for kidnappers.

Defending Alaska

A bill has been introduced in Congress to provide for the military defense of Alaska. Airplanes and ships would be provided to garrison our northern possession and to protect it from a menace some people seem to think exists in the expanding Japanese empire.

The westernmost point of Alaska is only 1,800 miles from Yokohama, while Seattle is 2,400 miles distant.
It would be easier for Japan to strike at Alaska, which is much closer to continental United States, than at the Hawaiian Islands.

And it would also be more worth while to conquer Alaska, a vast territory 600,000 square miles in area, containing great mineral resources and rich possibilities for agriculture and grazing, as well as quantities of valuable lumber. At present the population of Alaska is less than 60,000, and only half white. The entire country is open to colonization, and it is not as frigid or hostile as many have been led to think.

It would seem wise to provide for the defense of Alaska, even if there is no immediate danger of attack.
We have certainly discovered by this time that the vast land we bought from Russia is worth keeping.

New Bond of Union

On Friday people of North and South will assemble in Washington to witness ceremonies of government acceptance of two statues, gifts from the state of Virginia. They are the statues of George Washington, first president of the United States, and Gen. Robert E. Lee, who led the armies of the Confederacy in the civil war.

Each state is entitled to place two statues in the Washington Hall of Fame. Back in 1908 Virginia wanted to give the nation the Washington and Lee statues. But northerners in Congress would have none of the former rebel general. Virginia took the attitude that the government could take both or none. For 26 years the dispute has continued intermittently, until at last prejudice has been banished and the statues of Washington and Lee will stand side by side in the national Capitol.

Time has softened the bitterness of the days of '61 and has hallowed the names of '76. Today both Washington and Lee are heroes in their own right, and when Congress officially accepted the statues from the state of Virginia, it took another step in the amalgamation of North and South and established a new bond of union.

"Back Home" in Chicago

Gloria Swanson, famous screen star, had a real thrill one day this week and no doubt gave the residents of a certain Chicago neighborhood a similar experience. She revisited the apartment where she was born, in a building on Osgood street back of the Chicago Cub ball park.

Miss Swanson was eager and enthusiastic and pointed out spots that were memorable to her, telling many childhood incidents. She remembered the clothes closet where she hid to escape punishment, and the quarrel she had with another girl who accused her of being "stuck up."

Other people have similar sentiments about the places they knew as children; the feelings are very natural when it is considered that childhood experiences stand out rather vividly, and the years in the old home seem about the longest and most replete with experience that a person ever has.

In reality the years of childhood are few and the experiences unimportant when compared with what happens in later life; but after years pass more quickly and the memory is not so keen, because it is no longer recording first impressions.

New Menace to Gangsters

There is reasonable basis for a belief that the ten anti-crime bills now virtually through congress can be made a helpful answer to the challenge of American gangdom. Federal authority already has demonstrated its power in helping to run down kidnapers and other desperate criminals who have engaged in interstate operations.

The measures now being enacted will greatly strengthen the arm of the government. They will cover a field that hitherto has been a kind of twilight zone in enforcement, a field that has offered rich opportunities to heavily armed gangsters moving quickly from state to state and from one large center to another where temporary hideouts were easily possible.

But the government cannot do the job unaided. Indeed, it can do only a minor part of the job. The big task must fall on local enforcement agencies. If the police in large centers allow criminals with political connection to make cities their headquarters, the gangs will continue their depredations in spite of anything the government can do.

The Drama of Crime

Editorial Opinion of the Rocky (Mountain News.)

According to Frederick Hoffman, expert on vital statistics, the homicide rate has doubled in this country since 1901. In other words, there are twice as many murders per 1,000 people as there were thirty-three years ago.

Now just why should this be so?

There must be something peculiar to our life or attitude which invites or encourages killing.

Other nations appear able to reduce homicide while we are not.

There were twenty-one murders in London last year, with only one unsolved. That single unsolved case worries London authorities.

Here we have hundreds of unsolved murder cases, but no one worries.

Indeed, we seem to take pride in our baffling mysteries. They have become a part of our intellectual recreation.

To be frank, crime has become a sort of entertainment in America.

We regard it as a spectacle rather than as a tragedy.

We follow the antics of a Dillinger much as we follow a sporting contest.

"Some boys," we say, "running rings around an army of police, deputy sheriffs and constables."

One commentator hopes that "he will get shot in the final scrimmage" and thus save the public the expense of a trial.

This suggests anything but pride in law enforcement.

Death in a gun-fight would only make Dillinger more of a hero. Law enforcement demands that he be caught alive, tried, convicted and executed according to the prescribed method.

The struggle is not between Dil-linger and peace officers, but between lawlessness and order. The offense is not personal, but social.

Our inability to realize the distinction furnishes a large part of the explanation for the steady increase of murder and other violent crimes.

BARBS

Honduras has issued strict regulations against immigrants. Perhaps only those are permitted entry who can pronounce the name of its capital—Tegucigalpa.

A man is here from France to make America snail conscious. He should see America at a busy crossing during the rush hours.

Lindbergh has told the Blue Eagle
he still prefers to remain the Lone Eagle.

The proposal has been made for the addition of a course in our public schools in which the children will be taught how to vote. So that they can teach their parents, perhaps.

WILL ROGERS
says:

To the Editor of the Journal and Courier:

Beverly Hills, Calif., May 15.—"The government is arranging a war chest of three million to hire and equip more men in the crime drive. 200 speedy armored cars, sub machine guns, bullet proof vests and tear gas.
Two hundred armored cars cant very secretly drive up to your place of hiding without being detected in advance.
In days when they caught these fellows, it was by one Pinkerton detective following them. Or one Texas ranger, or one mounted police. I bet we got a lot of good man hunters in our various forces, if they were allowed to work without carrying an orchestra with 'em."
Yours, WILL.

The New Deal
in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, May 15.—The first big New Deal battleground will be found in Missouri, now that ex-Senator James A. Reed is going to seek nomination and election again.

Reed is first of the once important Old Deal Democrats to expose himself to the voters on an anti-New Deal platform. Outspoken against the Roosevelt policies, he has been in a class with Al Smith, Senator Carter Glass, John W. Davis, and Governor
Ely of Massachusetts.

Reports differ as to the chances that the baleful, white-haired 72-year-old war horse has for a comeback. Reed has always been closely associated with Boss Tom Pendergast's powerful machine in Kansas City and retains a popular following through the state.

Whether the Pendergast outfit will now take the chance of backing an anti-Roosevelt candidate is uncertain, especially since Senator Bennett Champ Clark has advanced his own pro-administration candidate—Congressman Tuck Milligan.

But Reed is so angry and disgusted at the progressive, experimental trend in Washington that he is even willing to run as an independent and may not enter the August primaries. He is chiefly anxious to roar his protests—and hopes for the chance to elect them from the Senate floor.

Roosevelt sentiment is so strong in Missouri that Senator Roscoe Patterson, Republican incumbent up this year, has been considered ripe for the skids.

He might win, however, if Reed ran on a third ticket.

One Tip That Cashed In

Dr. Cary T. Grayson, once physician to Woodrow Wilson and now a political power and prominent horseman in this area, walked into the White House press room and offered a sure-fire race tip on his horse, Scotch Queen.

The odds were 3 to 1 as correspondents started telephoning bookmakers and their friends. The tip was passed to the Senate and House galleries, all the newspaper offices, and the departmental press rooms around town.

Scotch Queen won. But so many newspapermen jumped on the raft that the odds were forced down until she paid only $2.90 on a $2 ticket.

Why Johnson Hushed

Behind various inside stories as to why General Johnson didn't make his scheduled speech in Detroit, but was persuaded to hold it for Columbus, is the real explanation.

Dr. Leo Wolman, head of the automobile labor board at Detroit, didn't want his boss to come. The board's troubles with belligerent workers had provided a delicate situation.

Wolman felt that one of Johnson's famous, bristling speeches would be about the worst thing that could happen. It might make both sides sore and couldn't possibly do any good.

Wolman quietly spread that idea around. Strong, successful representations were made to Johnson.

Tout Edge as G.O.P. Guide

The Republican party's dilemma over its national chairmanship is likely to be solved by selection of ex-Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey. One large and essential reason is that Edge has plenty of money. Another is that Edge, whom Hoover made an ambassador to France, also has certain prestige and hasn't any outstanding weakness or many enemies.

He is not popularly associated with the retired Republican Old Guard, as Jim Watson of Indiana is, and is abler than Theodore Roosevelt Jr.

"Ghosts" Harass Landis

The next congress will contain a playwright if Fred Landis of Indiana can persuade enough voters. He is a former congressman and a brother of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Chicago, the baseball czar, and has just been nominated by Republicans against Congressman George R. Durgan, Democrat.

Fred Landis is author of a successful play, "The Copperhead," and has been a radio columnist.

His chief handicap seems to be the fact that when he ran in 1928 and 1932 for the G.O.P. gubernatorial nomination, he said many perfectly awful things about Republicans then in office.

Why There is a Milk Problem

There is a Milk Problem because milk is the only animal food generally used in its raw state. Like any other animal food, it is subject to infection from the time it leaves the source, until it reaches your table.

Pasteurization destroys all germs of disease that may be in the milk, without affecting the digestive or nutritive qualities.

Nature intended milk to be man's purest and most healthful food. Pasteurization makes this certain.

Morgan Dairy Milk is pasteurized, and pasteurized milk is pure milk.

Dr. Thos. Willerton Here from Tucson; Tells of Kidnap Case

Dr. Thomas Willerton, who has returned here from Tucson, Ariz., gave some interesting sidelights Tuesday on the kidnapping of June Robles. He is acquainted with Carlos Robles, the deputy county attorney, and uncle of the little girl.

The place where the girl was hidden, Dr. Willerton said, is reached by travel thru the wealthy residence district of Tucson, Broadway, one of the streets the searchers were told to follow, leads to a large hotel, which is three miles out of the city. This hotel is surrounded by golf courses and the residences of many eastern millionaires are located in the immediate vicinity.

The hiding place was located farther out in the desert. The road thru country covered with sand and cactus. Dr. Willerton was of the opinion that had the child been taken to Mexico, as it was at first thought, she would never have been found.

He said that much property stolen in Arizona and is taken across the border by Mexicans. Dr. Willerton had the coils stripped from his car, which he left for only a few minutes.

The Class C events will be the 35 yard dash, sack race, broad jump and baseball throw for distance.

Ribbons will be awarded to the individual winners, and a championship shield will be awarded to the winning school. Scoring will be based upon five points for a first place, three for second place, and one for third place, and five points for a victory in a relay race.

MANY ROOKIES ARE GIVEN GATE

By Alan Gould
Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, May 15.—(AP)—The perfunctory business of lopping off rookie heads to bring major league rosters within the 25-player limit today was interrupted by the sale of Lyn Lary, much sought Yankee infielder, to the Boston Red Sox and the evidence of frantic efforts otherwise by most American League managers to strengthen their clubs for the attack on New York's big pennant lead.

Following the apparent return to form of their expensive left-hander, Bob Grove, the Red Sox were willing to hand over approximately $20,000 in cash, besides a rookie infielder, Fred Muller, in exchange for Lary. The Yankees previously had offered for Lary from at least three other clubs, including the Detroit Tigers. But besides putting a stiff price on his release manager Joe McCarthy also was anxious to get a pitcher in any deal for the infielder's service.

In addition to parting with Lary, a $50,000 investment, McCarthy also announced the release on option of Charley Devens, former Harvard ace right-hander, to the Newark Internationals.

Meanwhile, rumors were ripe concerning pending deals calculated to fortify the champion Washington Senators, Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians in their pursuit of the Yankees, who threaten to make another runaway of the American league race. On the National league side of the fence, the staggering New York Giants, acting like anything but world champions, were reported dicker-ing for Babe Herman, slugging outfielder of the Cubs and a former Brooklyn favorite.

Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis Browns, spiked reports he would consider parting with his star second baseman, Oscar Melillo, in any deal, but Walter Johnson, pilot of the Indians, admitted he would like to get Myril Hoag, substitute outfielder of the Yankees, and Harry Davis, a first baseman owned by Detroit but now playing with Toledo. Johnson said he turned down a chance to get Frank Deljak, Tiger outfielder.

Since swapping infielders with Washington, Ralph Kress for Bob Boken, manager Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox is sitting tight, "waiting for something to come along" that will bolster the tail-end Chicagoans. Two major league landmarks, Joe Collins, 1b, and Burleigh Grimes of the Cardinals, received unconditional releases in the general rush to reduce rosters to the player limit. Judge has spent 19 years in the majors and Grimes, last of the spitballers, had just started his 19th season.

The Cubs released pitcher Lynn Nelson to Atlanta, the Browns returned pitcher Jim Weaver to the Newark Internationals and the Brooklyn Dodgers sold Phil Page, southpaw, to Kansas City and outfielder Glenn Chapman to Albany, while the Detroit Tigers released pitcher Steve Larkin to Toledo.

Weaver bounced right back into the majors when the Cubs purchased him from Newark. With Weaver's purchase, the Cubs released hurler Dick Ward on option to Los Angeles of the Pacific coast league.

Dr. Thomas Willerton, who has returned here from Tucson, Ariz., gave some interesting sidelights Tuesday on the kidnapping of June Robles. He is acquainted with Carlos Robles, the deputy county attorney, and uncle of the little girl.

The place where the girl was hidden, Dr. Willerton said, is reached by travel thru the wealthy residence district of Tucson, Broadway, one of the streets the searchers were told to follow, leads to a large hotel, which is three miles out of the city. This hotel is surrounded by golf courses and the residences of many eastern millionaires are located in the immediate vicinity.

The hiding place was located farther out in the desert. The road thru country covered with sand and cactus. Dr. Willerton was of the opinion that had the child been taken to Mexico, as it was at first thought, she would never have been found.

He said that much property stolen in Arizona and is taken across the border by Mexicans. Dr. Willerton had the coils stripped from his car, which he left for only a few minutes.

The Robles family, Dr. Willerton said, lost their well known ranch some years ago. The ranch is about twenty miles out from Tucson and is now owned by an Oklahoma Indian.

IRISH WIN

Evanston, Ill., May 15.—(AP)—Notre Dame took advantage of Northwestern errors today to win a baseball game, 3 to 2.

Roy Kimball held Notre Dame to two hits in the first five innings, but in the sixth, three Wildcat misplays and singles by Dunn and Reagan scored two runs. Lenard, Notre Dame's starting hurler, also gave only a pair of hits in five innings, but walked the first four men in the sixth, forcing in a run. Hulsing, who replaced Lenard, was touched for three hits and a run in the eighth, after Notre Dame had scored in its half by the same method off Ed Lager.

Jim Mooney Weakens in Sixth Inning and Dodgers Win Over St. Louis Cardinals Six to Five

St. Louis, May 15.—(AP)—After Jim Mooney had held them in almost complete submission for five innings, the Brooklyn Dodgers began to come to life and pulled out a 6 to 5 triumph over the Cardinals in the final game of their first western invasion today.

The defeat left the third-place St. Louis club only a half game in front of the victorious New York Giants.

In the first five frames the Dodgers rapped Mooney freely, but could score only one run while the Cards, urged on by a hitting spree by Jack Rothrock, counted five times against Ray Benge. Brooklyn got into the game by scoring twice in the sixth when Sam Leslie was hit by a pitched ball and Al Lopez, Jimmy Jordan and Frey connected for singles. They put over the winning tallies with another outburst in the eighth while Relief Pitchers Ray Lucas and Owen Carroll blanked the Cards with three hits in the last four innings.

Although he couldn't win the game, Rothrock was easily the game's star. He socked a homer the first time up and wound up with three singles and a double added for a perfect day at the plate. He figured in all three St. Louis scoring innings and twice started double plays from his post in right field.

COW CULLING SETS STAGE FOR STATE EFFICIENCY MARK

Urbana, Ill., May 15.—Elimination of thousands of low-producing and unprofitable cows by members of Illinois' 53 dairy herd improvement associations made it possible for their herds to set a new state record in efficiency of production during the past year, according to a report by Prof. C. S. Rhode, chief of dairy husbandry at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The 20,048 cows retained by the herd improvement association averaged 321 pounds of butterfat each during the past year. This is the highest efficiency record ever attained by association members in Illinois and is 141 pounds better than the 180-pound butterfat average of all cows in the state. In 1932 the average butterfat production for cows in dairy herd improvement associations in this state was 317.6 pounds as compared with 310.1 pounds in 1930 and 282.3 pounds in 1925.

Members of herd improvement associations have realized more than ever during the past three years that the practice of keeping "fewer and better" cows is a sound method of adjusting their individual problems, as well as the problems of the industry as a whole, it was explained. Consequently during these three years, many Illinois association dairymen have practiced rigid culling, disposing of approximately 10,000 low-producing cows.

How efficiency of production actually affects the producer is shown by the estimated return of $26.78 above feed cost for the average cow in this state, while the average cow in dairy herd improvement work returned $64.91, or an increase of more than 142 per cent.

In point of individual production, a grade Holstein cow owned by the Mooseheart Home in Kane county led all others of the state with a record of 26,654 pounds of milk containing 1-303.3 pounds of butterfat. A Holstein in the Rock River Farms herd in Ogle county produced 25,986 pounds of milk and 983.3 pounds of butterfat to head all purebred cows in Illinois herd improvement associations. The highest-producing herd in this state in 1933 was owned by Timm and Ralston, of Boone county, with an average of 579 pounds of fat and 13,671 pounds of milk.

Baccalaureate for Jersey Graduates

Jerseyville, Ill., May 15.—A large congregation of friends and relatives of the graduating class of the Jersey Township High school was present Sunday evening to hear the baccalaureate sermon addressed to the class by Rev. W. L. Steinkraus at the Baptist church.

"The Challenge of the Best" taken from Luke formed the keynote of the discourse. "By the best" Mr. Steinkraus said, "we mean the highest type of character and personality which it is possible for any one to develop and which every student of history attributes to Jesus. The life and mission of Jesus was this: 'To challenge men and women to achieve the best character and to develop the highest type of personality which it is possible for them to become.'"

The church had been attractively decorated for the occasion by the Juniors of the school, the class motto: "Life is Now Our School" being given a place of prominence on the rostrum. Bouquets of snowballs and iris were used for floral decorations in keeping with the class colors of orchid and silver.

A group of Juniors served as ushers including Misses Culver Erwin, Valerie Sunderland, Rosalee Kallal, Vornly McQuerry, Catherine Stanley, Jane Voorhees and Betty Shortal and Albert Hanes, Warren Pirtle, James W. Thatcher, Eugene Hefner, Richard Wells, Joe Murphy and E. D. Updike, Jr.

A large section of the church was reserved for the members of the class who with the members of the faculty entered the building to the processionary played by Miss Ruth Edwards. Invocation was asked by Rev. Leonard Todd and the Scripture reading was given by Rev. H. S. Farrell. A mixed chorus group from the High school under the direction of Miss Catherine Chapman sang "Send Out Thy Light" and a vocal duet, "The Lord is My Light" was sung by Misses Rachel Witt and Melba Keckner, accompanied by Miss Jane Handler. The benediction was given by Rev. Todd and Miss Edwards again presided at the organ during the recessional.

WE WRECKED THESE NEW MOTORS TO PROVE PROTECTION FOR YOURS!

NOW FOR THE FIRST TIME NATIONALLY KNOWN MOTOR OILS HAVE BEEN PUT UNDER A SUPERVISED "DESTRUCTION" TEST TO GET THE FACTS!

CONOCO produced New and Improved Germ Processed Motor Oil to give new and old motors the lubricating protection they should have.

An oil with several times the film strength of any mineral oil you can buy. A new degree of oily penetrativeness that creates the "Hidden Quart" protection, an exclusively patented feature that only Conoco can use. New, also, in that dilution does not affect its quality as a lubricant. Finally, practically no carbon or sludge.

To demonstrate to you how well it will protect your motor, a most daring and conclusive test was made at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, under the supervision of the Contest Board, American Automobile Association.

Six oils were tested. Five of these were nationally known and advertised all over the country. They were purchased by AAA officials who certify them to be the oil sold to the public under their famous trade names.

The other oil was New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—exactly the same as you can now buy at any Red Triangle Station. Six new, strictly stock cars of medium priced class were selected by AAA officials who made sure all were in equal condition. They were each assigned an oil of the same S. A. E. grade by lot drawing and numbered—no one but the chief AAA official knew which oil was in any car. After 2,500 miles of careful wearing-in at graduating speeds, they were drained and given five quarts of fresh oil and the oil filler caps sealed by an AAA official. No more oil was added.

Now for the real consumer test—the first of its kind in history—the test that was to prove, not by laboratory tubes, not by intricate testing apparatus, but by the grim fact-finding drive under normal driving conditions—500 miles a day average at 50 miles an hour, as long as the motors could operate on just five quarts of oil—with no additions!

For the first 600 laps around this two-and-a-half mile track, all was serene—then things began to happen. With a roar and a rending of metal, the motor that contained Oil No. 4 stopped at 1,713.2 miles, the first to go out.

Rapidly following this, Oil No. 6 quit at 1,764.4 miles—then Oil No. 5 at 1,815.9 miles—all oils advertised as having the finest lubricating qualities! Oil No. 1 hung on for another day and did a trifle over 906 laps or 2,266.8 miles, when its motor stopped with a crash of broken metal.

Now it became a duel between two oils that were real lubricating oils! All through the next two days they defied each other, but on the eighth day, at 3,318.8 miles, Oil No. 3 had used up every ounce of resistance from every drop of oil and had wrecked its motor. A fine record, made by a fine oil, but second best.

Then a solitary car kept running, covering lap after lap—mile after mile—day after day—a total of 4,729 miles! Read it again—4,729 miles on that original five quarts of oil! It was New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, proved the finest of all oils by an unquestionable decision.

Here is motor protection and low consumption! Here is an oil that will definitely cut your repair bills and give you most, in both miles and dollars.

Drive into any Red Triangle Station—get a fill—and know that you have the best oil for protection and economy your money can buy.

THE HIDDEN QUART
STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

Warning TO NEW CAR OWNERS

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection against damage than many straight mineral oils now on the market.

Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

To Hold Exams for U. of I. Scholarship

Morgan county candidates for the University of Illinois four-year scholarship will write the competitive examination on Saturday, June 2. County Superintendent of Schools H. H. Vasconcelos announced here Tuesday.

The winner of the examination, providing a passing grade is made, will be awarded the scholarship at the University.

The examination is open to all pupils graduating this year from high schools in this county, and to graduates of earlier years who have not continued their education beyond the secondary schools. The scholarship exempts the holder from payment of all fees for instruction except laboratory fees, but the scholarship will be awarded only provided the pupil ranking highest in the examination meets the entrance requirements of the University and actually enters the University next fall. The total value of the scholarship for the four-year period therefore is about $290.

Mr. Vasconcelos urges all eligible high school boys and girls in this county who are planning to go to the University to take this examination. He believes that any student who has a good record in high school should be able to pass the test. He will be glad to give further information regarding the examination.

This year the tests will be given in two parts. All candidates must write an English composition and literature examination. This is an objective type of examination covering the usual high school course in English. This part of the test begins at 9 a. m., June 2, in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, and three hours will be allowed to finish it. It will score as 50 per cent in the total examination result.

In the afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m., the candidates may choose any one of the following four fields in which to write: Mathematics, Foreign Language, Science or Social Studies. The mathematics test will cover first year algebra and plane geometry in foreign languages the candidates must write on two years of work in one of the following: Latin, German, French, or Spanish.

In the field of science the candidate must write on any two of the following six sections, except that botany and zoology may not be offered in combination with biology: chemistry, physics, botany, zoology, biology, or general science.

Under social studies, he must write on two subjects, one of which must be history, or both may be history. The social science sections are: American history, Ancient and Medieval history, Modern history, economics and civics, civics and commercial geography, or commercial geography and economics.

Ashland Students in Protest Strike

Ashland, May 15.—A hundred students of Ashland High school struck this afternoon and refused to attend classes in protest against the recent action of the high school board in not re-employing the present members of the high school faculty.

President Proposes Six-Point Aid Plan

Orders Program Pushed for Giving Relief to Area Swept by Drouth

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Washington, May 15.—(P)—President Roosevelt guided into operation today a six-point plan for aiding midwestern farmers in a comeback against the unrelenting drouth.

Direct word issued from the White House that the program would be pushed "energetically and expanded as necessary."

The United States weather bureau also contributed a word of hope, reporting that the precipitation yesterday over part of the heat seared area would be followed by showers in many sections today.

The administration's relief plan, formulated at a meeting yesterday between President Roosevelt and four of his agricultural and relief aids, calls for:

Continuation and expansion of direct relief to farm families; financing of stock feed and seed for emergency forage crops; cash purchase of "a substantial number" of cattle in the drouth area; relaxation of provisions of wheat and corn-hoe reduction contracts to permit farmers to raise summer forage; a request to railroads to reduce freight rates on cattle shipped out of the drouth area and feed shipped in; and additional work by the relief administration to provide increased water supplies.

Governor W. I. Myers of the farm credit administration, one of the White House conferees, also announced today a reduction from 2 1/2 to 2 percent in the discount rate of the 12 federal intermediate credit banks, the second such reduction within two months.

After being assured there was no danger of a food shortage in the afflicted area, Mr. Roosevelt let it be known he felt it would "not be necessary to ask Congress for additional powers or grants to enable the emergency agencies to cope with the situation."

HORNER SIGNS BILLS OF SPECIAL SESSION

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—(P)—Governor Horner today had signed special session laws permitting state cooperation with two of President Roosevelt's recovery programs.

One was the state NRA enforcement bill, passed after much difficulty. He also signed the Ward bill permitting building and loan associations to federalize and participate in the housing program which the president outlined in a special message to congress yesterday.

"The building and loan association," the governor said, "has long been a vital factor in making available money with which to finance home building and maintenance."

Bus Skids Off Road in Kentucky; 19 are Taken to Hospitals

Slippery Pavement Blamed for Accident; Bus Badly Crushed in Ditch

Williamsburg, Ky., May 15.—(P)—Nineteen passengers and the driver were injured when a Greyhound bus enroute from Cincinnati to Knoxville, left the road and crashed over a 12-foot embankment.

About fifteen persons were seriously injured.

The accident occurred about 7:40 a. m., on the east side of the Cumberland river and at a point where the bus had almost descended the long hill. A slippery road was believed to have caused the machine to leave the highway.

The bus landed upside down and was badly crushed. The injured were taken in ambulances to hospital in Corbin, Ky., and Knoxville, Tenn.

Shortly after the accident an automobile occupied by Mrs. E. B. Howard and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Howard, overturned at the top of the same hill. Both women were badly bruised.

LEGISLATOR RESIGNS TO LEAVE DEMOCRATS WITH BARE MAJORITY

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—(P)—Robert J. Wilson, Democratic state representative from the thirty-seventh district, has resigned to become postmaster at Kewanee.

Governor Horner said today he had received Wilson's resignation.

Wilson, a Kewanee hotel proprietor, was re-nominated for the assembly in the April primary, he has not presented his resignation of the nomination, a vacancy which will be filled by the district senatorial committee.

His resignation from the assembly reduced the Democratic majority to 77 an exact constitutional majority.

Several additional resignations from the Democratic side of the house will be forthcoming if anticipated federal appointments are made. Speaker Arthur Roe is expected to be appointed U. S. district attorney for the eastern Illinois district and Howard Doyle, Decatur Democrat, is said to be in line for a similar appointment in the southern district.

Wilson won the favor of the state administration when, despite the objection which his vote for the first sales tax law caused in his district, he cast the 77th vote for the present measure.

KINGSTON PRISON SCENE OF FIRE

Kingston, Ont., May 15.—(P)—Fire broke out in the "change room" of Kingston penitentiary tonight, but was brought under control in an hour's time with every convict accounted for and the prison quiet.

At first it was feared the flames had gotten beyond control, and a heavy pall of smoke hanging over the prison made it impossible to determine whether riots had developed.

The "change room" contained extra clothing and shoes for prisoners. Serious riots occurred in Kingston penitentiary in 1932 when prisoners set fire to mail bags in one of the departments.

Tavender's paper has championed the United Mine Workers of America in its controversy with the Progressives.

No charges were filed against the editor tonight. Henry was not arrested.

MANDAMUS ACTION BEGUN

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—(P)—Claiming that the fees charged by the Chicago municipal court are unreasonably high, mandamus action was started before the Illinois Supreme Court today in an effort to set aside the 1921 law permitting the court to charge the fees as it wishes.

The petition, filed by Elsie E. Sable and Albert Langella, named Joseph L. Gill, municipal court clerk as the defendant.

DROUTH STILL HOLDS MIDWEST IN GRIP AS RELIEF IS REQUESTED

Chicago, May 15.—(P)—The government was asked today to extend immediate aid to farmers driven to distress by drouth.

Rains fell yesterday over Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri, and were predicted today for southern Illinois and the Ohio valley. Minnesota, the Dakotas and western Kansas, however, were still in a critical condition, and it was for those sections that federal aid was sought.

Members of congress representing Wisconsin farmers told the federal relief administration that there was no time for the negotiation of loans for the farmers; that they must have seed immediately for forage crops they can plant to forestall a feed shortage.

From Springfield, Ill., came the encouraging report of the Illinois and federal departments of agriculture that the state's winter wheat condition is still 85 per cent of normal in spite of the drouth.

Pastures, cats and tame hay were hardest hit, the report said.

SENATOR REED IS LEADING PINCHOT BY LARGE VOTE

Critic of "New Deal" Runs Over 70,000 Ahead of Governor

Philadelphia, May 15.—(P)—Governor Pinchot, insurgent champion of President Roosevelt's administration, tonight trailed Senator David A. Reed, critic of the "new deal" policies, in incomplete returns from a hard-fought contest for the republican senatorial nomination.

Senator Reed, seeking a third term, piled up a heavy early lead in the organization—controlled Philadelphia wards and added to his advantage in rural and industrial upstate counties which formerly were Pinchot strongholds.

Organization candidates in other major races also got away to flying starts. Joseph P. Guffey, endorsed by the democratic state committee, outdistanced Roland S. Morris, former ambassador to Japan, in early tabulation of that party's senatorial contest.

William Schneider, Pinchot's attorney general who was appointed by the republican organization, led a field of five for the republican nomination for governor. On the democratic side, George H. Earle, former minister to Austria and Guffey's running mate, was well ahead of Judge Charles D. Copeland.

Returns from 2,650 of 7,936 districts in the republican senatorial contest gave:

Reed 224,541.

Pinchot 151,435.

Although the senator pulled far ahead in Philadelphia, Pinchot, making his third attempt for a senate seat, was running neck and neck with Reed in the latter's home county, Allegheny (Pittsburgh).

In that county, 137 districts gave Reed only a ten vote margin. The vote there was 12,343; Pinchot, 12,333.

In the democratic senatorial race, Philadelphia also gave strong support to Guffey, the organization choice. The vote in 2,045 districts was: Guffey 116,331.

Morris 29,557.

CHAPLAIN APPOINTMENTS

Evanston, Ill., May 15.—(P)—Appointment of army and navy chaplains by church rather than government officials was urged by the Methodist world peace conference commission today meeting to discuss making the church an agent for peace.

"Chaplains should be appointed by religious officials," George A. Coe, Evanston, said, "to be consistent with the church's stand for peace. They should be peace officers rather than military men."

Support of conscientious objectors to military training at Land Grant Colleges was discussed by the churchmen, and further discussions were planned during the remaining sessions.

GUARD MANSION

Frankfort, Ky., May 15.—(P)—A coroner of heavily-armed steel-helmeted National Guardsmen was thrown about the executive mansion tonight after it was reported Governor Ruby Laffoon had received another threat on his life.

Denard announced the governor had received letters threatening his life and bombing of the mansion if he did not pardon Neal Bowman, escaped Ohio convict accused of two Kentucky murders.

WOLVERINE

Shell Horsehide DROWNED IN TANK 35 Days!

Here's a tough test for a work shoe! Actually soaked under water for 35 days — and this Wolverine Shell Horsehide, right out of regular stock, dried out glove soft. At Berglund & Hern's Shoe Store, Spokane, Wash.

AND IT DRIES OUT SOFT and PLIABLE

Slip into a pair of Wolverines. Feel how moccasin soft, roomy and flexible they are. Run your fingers over the seams — see how that special 4-ply thread has been buried deep in the surface to prevent ripping. You'll be amazed how they laugh at scuffs and resist the acids of kerosene and limestone soil. How their sturdy, flexible soles never seem to wear out. No matter what type of work you do — farming, railroad, mining, oil drilling, factory or machine shop — Wolverines give you more comfort, service and mileage! And save you money besides! All styles — ankle length or high tops.

Pleasant Hill H.S. Banquet Draws 109

Pleasant Hill, May 15.—The annual Junior-Senior reception was held in the high school auditorium Friday evening. Reservations were made for 109. The class of '35 acted as host. Among their honored guests were the Seniors, the board of education and wives; Mrs. Fannie Shultz, Miss Vernon Thomas and the faculty.

The decorations were carried out in the garden theme. A fence enclosed the gymnasium, with gateway entrance and fountains above the gates. The garden was lit with Japanese lanterns. Many flowers and two artistic rock gardens gave a touch of realism to the scene. All the colors of the rainbow were used in the decorations. These colors were especially in evidence when the girls in their beautiful multicolored dresses were seated at the tables scattered throughout the garden. Five boys and five girls from the Sophomore class served as waiters and waitresses.

They, from their various stations around the fence in their costumes displaying the colors of the rainbows, added much to the beauty of the scene.

Dixie Nicholas made a most charming toastmistress. The following speeches were given:

The Search—Perry Shelton.
The Rainbow—Mae Collard.
The Sun—Supt. J. H. Voehall.
Raindrops—Mayo L. Galloway.
The Pot of Gold—Mary North.
After the banquet the tables were removed and all united in a dance. The music was furnished by "The Missourians."

Give Flowers to Six Gold Star Mothers

White Hall, May 15.—The White Hall Auxiliary of the American Legion gave flowers to Gold Star Mothers for Mothers day and delivered them Saturday. Those receiving flowers were Mrs. S. A. D. Martin, Mrs. Lydia Powell, Mrs. Aaron Walker, Mrs. Sylvester Aldridge, of White Hall, Mrs. Edward Fisher of Belltown, and Mrs. Melinda Edwards of Roodhouse who is now visiting in Moline. Mrs. Mary Andrews, though not a Gold Star mother was also presented with flowers, her son having died after he was discharged because of injuries sustained in the war.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Pinkerton of Wood River spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Lakin, south of the city.

Light Showers Sunday

Light showers which fell intermittently during the after part of Saturday night and through Sunday, did much good to revive vegetation in this locality and to settle the dust which had been a real menace for the past several days.

Water on the pavement caused a large two door sedan to skid on the pavement in Apple Creek bottom just south of Belltown and turn completely around and backed into a ditch. The car was considerably damaged, having glass in one door broken, a fender mashed, the front bumper bent, but none of the occupants, including two men and two women were hurt in any way. A wrecker from White Hall pulled them out of the ditch and they came into town for repairs before going on their way.

J. Harding on Hancock street, convalescing from a serious illness. While she will graduate with the class she will have considerable time to make up for lost time on account of illness.

Mrs. Joseph Lyman who has been an appendectomy patient in the White Hall hospital for the past ten days was removed to her home in an ambulance Sunday afternoon. She is doing very nicely.

Mrs. Sylvia Simmons and son, Clio, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Antrobus, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Woodson and daughter, Janet, drove up from Alton Saturday afternoon to remain until Monday evening in the Simmons home on Carr street.

Flower lovers should plan to arrive at the Dobyns garden in time for this interesting demonstration of planting and dividing Iris and discussions of new varieties. SYNOPSIS Lovely Stanley Paige could have married any eligible man in her set—there was, for instance, the young lawyer, Perry Deverest, loyal and reliable, but she fell in love with dashing, irresponsible Drew Armitage. Drew told Dennis St. John, his former sweetheart, that although he would have loved Stanley under any circumstances, he would never have become engaged to her had she been poor. Then comes the crash and Stanley's fortune is wiped out. She does not care as long as she has Drew's love, but . . . he says it would be madness to marry on his income. So with a dramatic . . . "Stanley, I shall never forget you and I shall always regret having hurt you but never having loved you" he passes out of her life. Though broken-hearted, Stanley accepts the blow stoically. She refuses to accept charity from her friends and leaves her luxurious apartment. She rents a cheap furnished room where she meets Valerie Blair, a salesgirl. Valerie is very kind to Stanley. Warning against poverty, Valerie urges Stanley to return to her wealthy friends, but she refuses. Marcia Wingate and the rest of Stanley's friends are at a loss to understand her disappearance and think she would have acted more wisely had she married Perry. After a week of loneliness and heartache, Stanley phones Perry's friend, Nigel Stern, and makes an appointment with him.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

Now that she was actually in his studio she was filled with a disturbing nervousness.

A nervousness which Nigel himself quite obviously did not share. He came for tea, and sat down directly opposite her in a high-backed, antique chair. Smiled at her reassuringly.

"Why did you do it?" he asked her quietly. "Why did you choose to run away and live by yourself? Surely there were alternatives."

Stanley considered this gravely. "Yes, of course. But I wanted to be alone. I had to think things out a bit."

"And you have?"

She shrugged. "I don't seem to get anywhere. The most important thing seems to be to find a job. I'm going to need one rather badly."

"Am I to understand you have absolutely no income?"

Stanley nodded. "None at all. You see it is really serious."

"Yes, I see that it is." He passed her cigarettes in a carved ivory box. "Unless you decide to marry Perry Deverest—and settle things that way."

Stanley met his eyes directly. "I have considered that alternative and decided against it definitely."

"I see, I suppose you are still in love with Drew."

"Do we have to discuss—him?"

"Certainly not, if you prefer not to do so."

"It happened to be my first love-affair. I haven't learned to be exactly casual about them—yet."

"I doubt if you ever are. You're not the sort of person who loves lightly." He smiled at her quietly. "Shall we have tea?"

A small Japanese had come in silently with the tea tray. Ice clicked in tall, thin glasses; there was the spicy odor of mint and lemon, tiny cakes filled with caraway seeds and almonds.

"Perhaps you prefer a cocktail? I should be delighted—for myself, no liquor before six o'clock." He looked at her interrogatively.
